Its Not Just a Catalog... It's A Catalyst!

Action with Passion

“I love what I do”, says the Artist, “this is my passion. When I am traveling I am driven by the environment, spirituality and culture. I get inspired and I instantaneously reflect about a jewel. The beauty of my Art is to materialize thoughts and ideas and create something elegant and fun that other people can enjoy and wear.”

This project is very sentimental to her and wish not to gain any fame from it but to be able to sustain the project via sales of products. Each one Teach one towards a brighter, sustainable future for all to flourish in this beautiful paradise. These jewellery are one of a kind handmade with love and incorporate natural elements for healing.

“Beading is my healing and beading meditation had helped me throughout my depression and brought me to see the love, peace and light in everything around me and also in every situation both negative and positive.”

The objective of this initiative is to help reduce domestic violence amongst our women and children by helping them to develop a sense of independence so that they may sustain themselves and family.

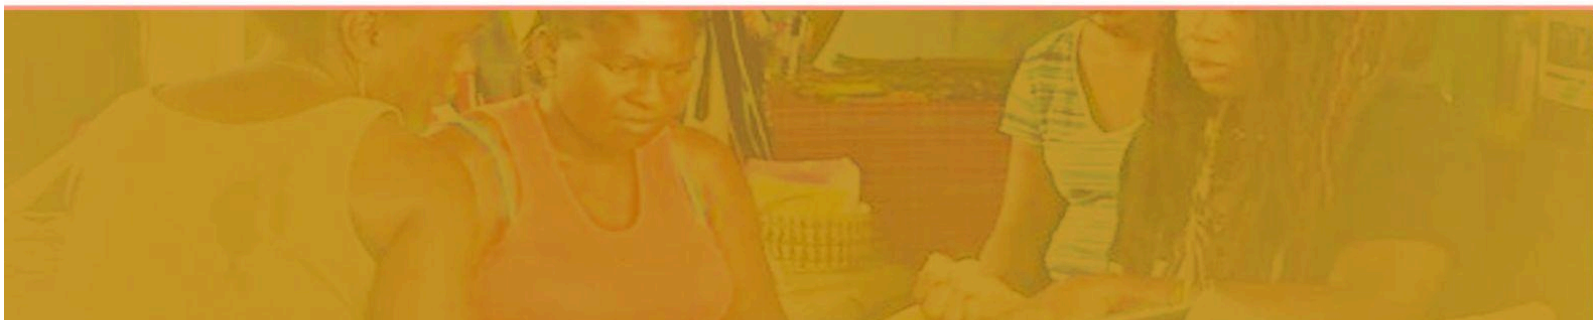

The Project

Something Natural . Something Royal . Something Recycled.

This project is dedicated towards empowering women of need by providing them with the opportunity to live and independent life through the making and sale of jewellery while simultaneously preserving the environment through the use of repurposing waste in the creation process.

The Artist who had founded this project always had in mind to go back to her community and teaching others women the art of making precious jewels. Today this is a reality and thanks to her leadership other women have the opportunity to find a source of income through the art of making handmade fine jewellery. "Making jewellery is our passion".

Reiki Infused Jewelry

Balance Your Chakras with Style

What Are Chakras and Reiki? Chakras are energy centers in the body that affect our physical, emotional, and spiritual health. Reiki is a Japanese healing technique that channels energy to restore balance and promote well-being.

Why Reiki Infused Jewelry? In today's busy world, maintaining energetic balance can be challenging, leading to stress and discomfort. Reiki-infused jewelry offers a stylish solution.

Discover Color Therapy

Harnessing the Power of Colors for Well-Being

What is Color Therapy?

Color therapy, or chromotherapy, uses colors to balance and heal the body, mind, and spirit. Each color has a unique vibration that can influence our health and emotions.

How It Works:

- Root Chakra Red: Energizes and boosts circulation.
- Sacral Chakra Orange: Enhances creativity and emotional balance.
- Solar Plexus Chakra Yellow: Stimulates mental clarity and confidence.
- Heart Chakra Green: Promotes emotional healing and calm.
- Throat Chakra Blue: Reduces stress and supports relaxation.
- 3rd Eye Chakra Indigo: Deepens intuition and meditation.
- Crown Chakra Violet: Encourages transformation and spiritual growth.

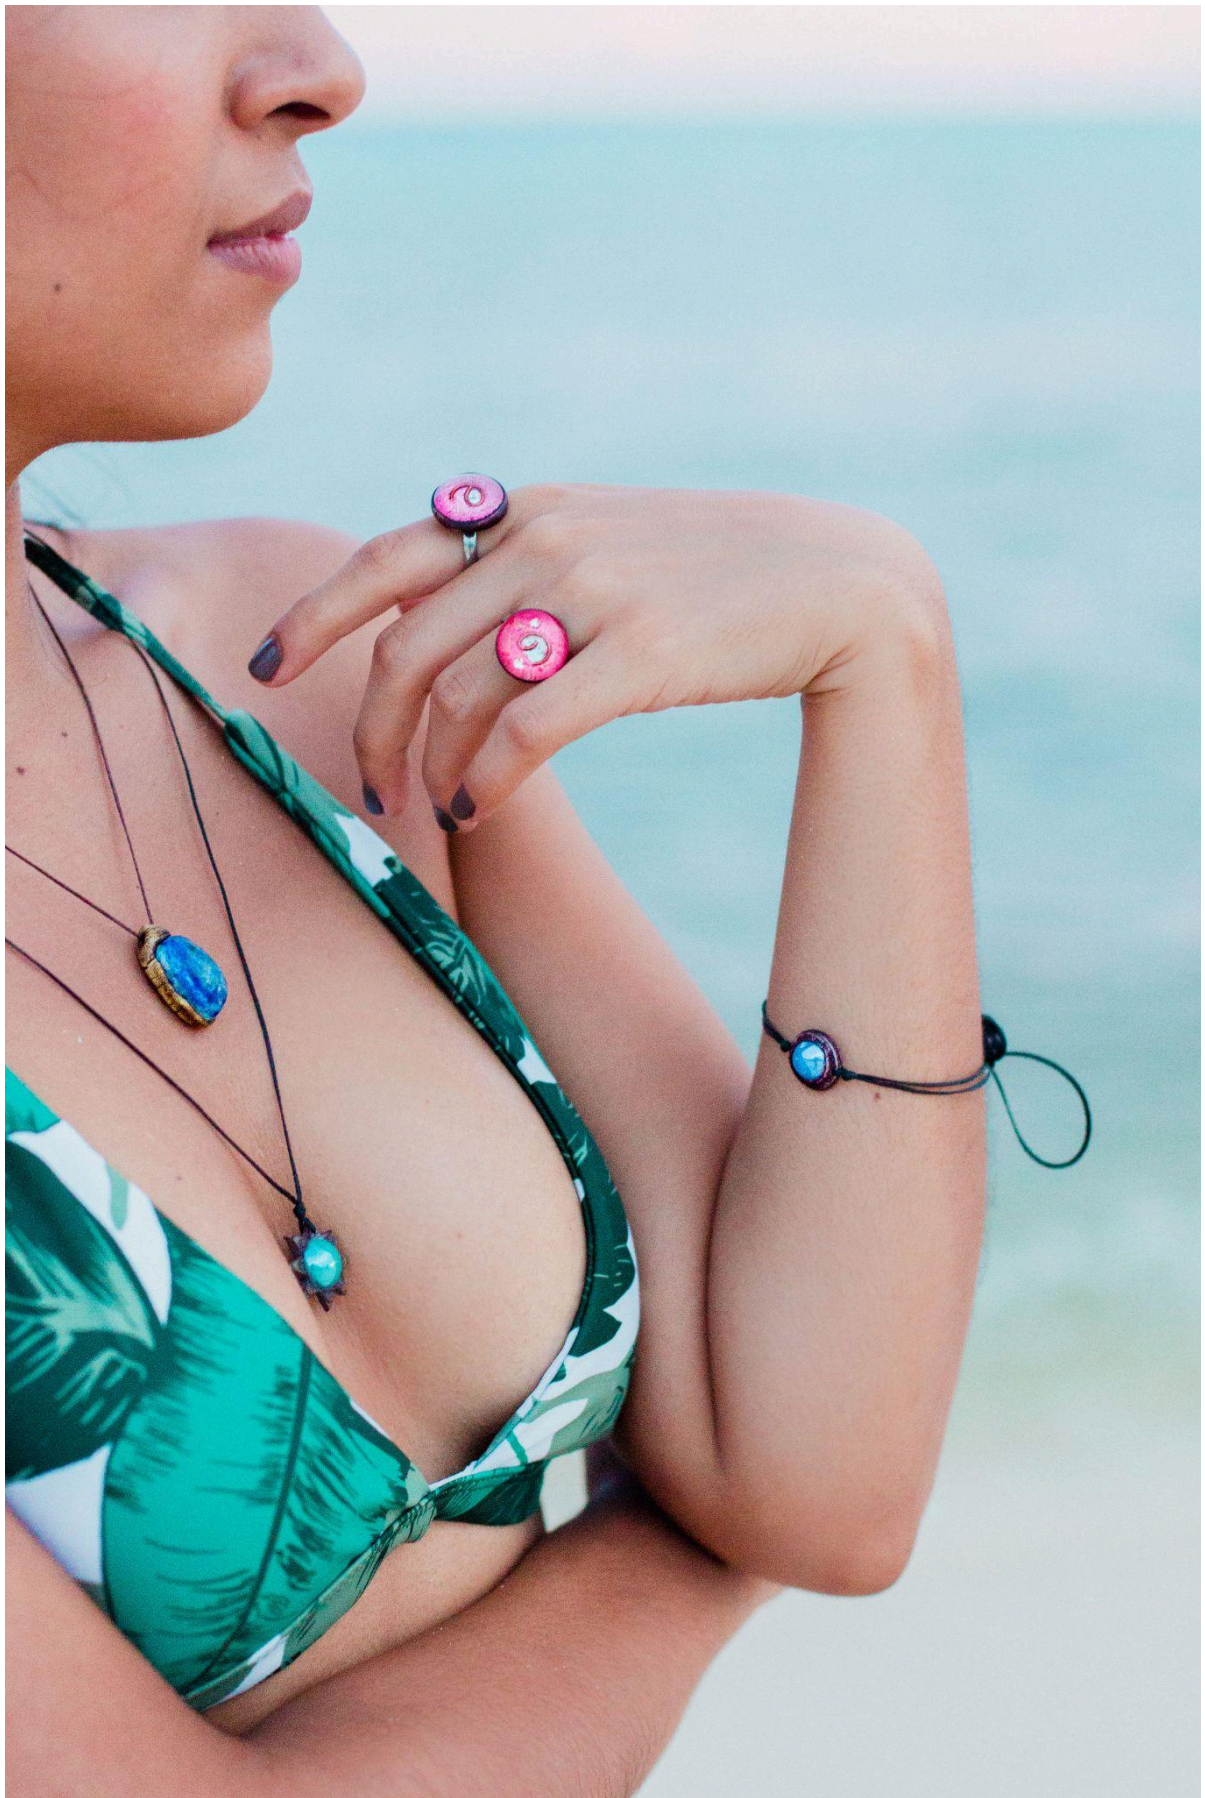

Applications:

- Visual Exposure: Use color in decor or clothing to influence mood.
- Color Therapy Sessions: Professional use of colored lights or filters.
- Colorful Foods: Eating a variety of colorful fruits and vegetables for balance.

Benefits:

- Emotional Balance: Helps improve mood.
- Stress Reduction: Alleviates stress and anxiety.
- Energy Boost: Increases vitality.

Incorporate color therapy into your life to harness the healing power of colors and enhance your overall well-being.
